June brings tulips, lilies, roses, Fills the children's hands with posies."

Draw a title page for June!

Copy "If I Marry" in your journal. Make a list of traits that you would like your future husband or wife to have.!

Write a letter to your father telling him why you're glad that he's your dad! Give it to him, but glue a copy of it in your journal.

Look up butterflies and read a little about them! Record what you learned in your journal! Draw some of your favorite kinds of butterflies!

If I Marry

If I marry, he must be so tall that when he is on his knees, he reaches all the way to heaven. His shoulders must be broad enough to bear the burden of a tamily. His lips must be strong enough to smile, firm enough to say no, and soft enough to kiss. He must be big enough to be gentle and great enough to be thoughtful. His arms must be strong enough to carry a little child.

- Ruth Bell Graham

Read about Flag Day and draw an American Flag in your journal! Copy a few lines from "The Star Spangled Banner" in your best penmanship. Look up the history of our national anthem! What do the colors of our flag stand for? How many stars + stripes? School's ... Maybe?

What are you planning to do on your summer vacation? Or, if you do school in summertime, do you have any special field trips planned? Make a special small journal to take on vacation or to summer camp!

Doodle of the month: Posies